INTERMEDIATE COMMUNITY-POT-LOTS OF BARE ROOT SEEDLINGS

When my customers want anything, I strive to get it for them, but I've rejected bids for "mixed" community pots because I was sure that neither the customer nor the seedlings would be happy with them. I still feel the same about an indiscriminately "integrated" community, but I've devised a plan for dividing a 3-inch pot into three sections, like segments of a pie. The three hybrids listed below seem to be happy neighbors in this community.

Past the vulnerable just-out-of-flask state, they are vigorous, well established community pot seedlings that should all be ready for  $1\frac{1}{2}$ -inch pots in another three or four months.

Even the YELLOW hybrid, strangely enough, is not a bit backward, and seems perfectly compatible with her White neighbors and her pink-yellow bi-foliate neighbors.

Seven seedlings fit neatly into each section, four near the pot rim, two in the narrower row and the last one near the apex of the triangle - with plenty of room for each to grow and develop until ready for his "first shoes" ( $1\frac{1}{2}$ -inch pot)!

Potting Mix, fungicide, dividers and number tags will fly to you via PREPAID AIR MAIL, along with your three sevens of "Barefoot Babies" - 21 seedlings.

WOULDN'T THIS UNIQUE OUTFIT MAKE A CLEVER GIFT FOR SOME ORCHID LOVING FRIEND?

#827 LC SUNBURST X LC MOONBEAM X C. DOWIANA AUREA - In three months, when this cross will be ready for individual pots, they will be priced at $1.00 each, my regular price for YELLOWS coming out of communities. Grow yours and save!

#829 C. BARBARA BILLINGSLEY X C. BEVERLY BOSWELL - One of my most vigorous White crosses, these should produce quantities of fine, heavy White flowers for Mid-Winter through Early Spring.

#844 C. AMETHYSTOGLOSSA X BLC GOLDEN MYTH - This is a speculative novelty cross, but I expect the rich butter yellow of Golden Myth to dominate the delicate pink of the pod parent in many offspring, and to blend into peach or apricot hues in many others. The resulting Spring clusters should be delightful.

7 SEEDLINGS OF EACH - ALL 21 FOR PLANTING A SINGLE COMMUNITY - $10.00.
